Dnyanprassarak Mandal's College and Research Centre Library celebrated late APJ Abdul Kalam's birthday by garlanding a portrait of the former president.

In order to create awareness on Kalam's life and achievements, the library and information centre of the college organised a powerpoint presentation for students.

Library committee convenor, Sunoj Raikar spoke about the purpose and importance of conducting the presentation competition and holding a book exhibition on Kalam and other personalities like first president of India Rajendr Prasad.

Judges for the competition were Anabella Lobo, Dhaneesh Kumar and Prasanna Mayekar. First place was won by Gajanan B Haldonkar, second place was awarded to T Johnson David and third place was secured by Sawant Manjita Moru.

Librarian Jayaprakash urged students to inculcate the habit of reading. He also said these kinds of competitions help students build their overall personality and eliminate stage fright.
